
Emotional Approaches in Modern Iridology Seminar with John Andrews

LillaHotellet, Lund, Sweden,

Friday 19th & Saturday 20th August 2011

GROUNDBREAKING MATERIAL IN IRIDOLOGY PRESENTED FOR THE FIRST TIME IN SWEDEN BY JOHN ANDREWS

Following on from 2010's highly successful and well-received 2 day seminar in Lund, by popular request, John Andrews will cover new material in Sweden for the first time on Emotional Approaches in Modern Iridology, based on previously published material, plus new groundbreaking work, based on research in iridology over the last 15 years. The work will be extensive, simple & practical and be illustrated throughout with a lavish selection of images & cases.

We will look at the classical & modern charts from the emotional perspectives

About John Andrews

John Andrews is known for his extensive, dynamic, illustrative, inspiring yet practical & informative presentations and is an international lecturer in iridology and natural medicine. He is considered a pioneer in modern iridology research findings, has authored seven textbooks on iridology (including Emotional Approaches in Iridology in 2005), is the recipient of five international awards for his outstanding contributions to iridology & is in practice in Northern England where he integrates modern iridology, herbal medicine, nutrition, homotoxicology with PNEI & emotional approaches. He has recently published the Modern Iridology Chart and the Cellular Iridology Chart in 2011 and also the acclaimed Emotional Dynamics of the Collarette Chart in 2004. For more information please visit the website www.johnandrewsiridology.net

LillaHotellet, Lund, Sweden

Friday 19th & Saturday 20th August 2011

We will explore research findings in iris signs, the inner pupillary border and clinical cases will be combined with an integration with emotional anatomy, psycho-emotional traits with general & specific iris signs, embracing the structures of the collarette (ANW); identifying trauma at specific ages in gestation and life, understanding of the emotional centers of the brain - the limbic system, including the hypothalamus, amygdala & hippocampus - and how stress and emotions influence the hormonal, immune plus nervous systems & vice versa or the explanation of Psycho-neuro-endocrino-immunology (PNEI) dynamics or the mind-body approach in many systems of health.

The main iris signs in emotional approaches in modern iridology will be studied

For the Participants

All participants will receive the following:

- * CPD certification for the seminar
- * A CD of the presentations in Powerpoint format from the 2 day seminar
- * John's Emotional Dynamics of the Collarette Chart

An extensive understanding of the material will be provided, including all the main iris signs, plus the ability to practically apply the information with confidence in your practice the next week. The seminar is open to all those practitioners & students using iridology in connection with many different therapies.

Emotional Approaches in Modern Iridology Seminar with John Andrews LillaHotellet, Lund, Sweden

Friday 19th & Saturday 20th August 2011

EMOTIONAL DYNAMICS OF THE COLLARETTI

